Imanuel Sembiring, S.H., M.H

Senior Associate Kartika & Associates Law Firm

Imanuel Sembiring, S.H., M.H., is a graduate of the Faculty of Law at University of North Sumatra, where he completed both his undergraduate (Bachelor of Law) and postgraduate (Master of Law) degrees. With a strong academic foundation, he has built a career in the legal field as both a practitioner and an academic. Currently, in addition to actively working as a lawyer, Imanuel also serves as a lecturer at several universities in the city of Medan. His combined academic insight and practical experience enable him to approach legal issues with depth and comprehensive analysis.

As a legal practitioner, Imanuel has handled a wide range of cases in both litigation and non-litigation settings. His experience includes major cases involving money laundering and several high-profile corruption cases. He has also dealt with corporate disputes related to share ownership, and successfully secured the acquittal of a defendant accused of palm oil theft a case that highlights his strategic litigation skills and sharp legal reasoning.

The combination of academic expertise and hands-on legal practice makes Imanuel Sembiring a professional who consistently delivers precise and effective legal solutions for every client who entrusts him with their legal matters.
